ORDER REGARDING CERTAIN PRETRIAL MATTERS

Before the Court is the status of the above-referenced case, which the District Judge referred for disposition of certain matters, pursuant to Rules CV-72 and 1 of Appendix C of the Local Rules of the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas. See Dkt. No. 12. This Order sets this matter for an Initial Pretrial Conference, directs the parties to confer and prepare a Report under Rule 26(f), directs the parties to ensure the Court has jurisdiction and take any necessary corrective steps regarding jurisdiction prior to the Initial Pretrial Conference, and instructs counsel on certain matters relevant to practicing in this Court.

A. The Case Is Set for an Initial Pretrial Conference.

IT IS ORDERED that this case is set for an Initial Pre-Trial Conference, pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 16, on February 7, 2024 at 2:00pm All parties are required to appear by Zoom for the hearing. The information to join the hearing is as follows:

Join ZoomGov Meeting: <https://txwd-uscourts.zoomgov.com/j/1600078256>

Meeting ID: 160 007 8256

The parties must check in, no later than 5 minutes before the start of the hearing, with the Courtroom Deputy.

The parties should be prepared to discuss the following: (1) the claims and defenses at issue; (2) each party's theory of the case; (3) the basis for federal jurisdiction and the sufficiency of any pleadings addressing jurisdiction; (4) entry of a Scheduling Order (or how the case is proceeding under the current Scheduling Order, if one has already been entered); and (5) any other matters set forth in Rule 16(c)(2). Parties should also be prepared to argue any ripe, pending motions referred for resolution by the District Judge. To understand whether a motion is referred for resolution, the parties are directed to consult the Order of Referral entered by the District Judge.

Because key purposes of the Initial Pretrial Conference are to encourage counsel at an early juncture to engage with the case substantively, identify potential issues warranting early consideration or special treatment, develop a thoughtful scheduling order, and address certain pending motions, counsel appearing for the Initial Pretrial Conference must be: (1) informed about the case; (2) authorized to make scheduling decision and on-the-record statements about the claims, defenses, or theories in the case; and (3) prepared to argue any pending, referred motions.

Any counsel appearing and addressing the Court at the Initial Pretrial Conference should already be admitted to practice in the Western District of Texas (or have received or already sought permission to appear pro hac vice) and must, prior to the Initial Pretrial Conference, formally appear in the case by filing a Notice of Appearance on the docket. If for some reason counsel is not admitted or has not yet appeared in the case prior to the Initial Pretrial Conference—but is admitted to practice in the District or has a pro hac application pending—this topic should be raised at the first opportunity during the hearing and a full explanation provided.

The practice of attorneys who lack knowledge of the case or authority to act in it and merely “step in” to handle the Initial Pretrial Conference will not be permitted and is potentially sanctionable.

The failure to appear at a scheduled hearing, including an Initial Pretrial Conference, can result in a finding of criminal contempt and imposition of a fine of up to $5,000. See 28 U.S.C. 636(e); 18 U.S.C. § 3571(b)(6).

A copy of my Civil Fact Sheet may be found at <https://www.txwd.uscourts.gov/wp-content/uploads/Standing%20Orders/San%20Antonio/Farrer/Court%20Facts%20Sheet%20for%20U.S.%20Magistrate%20Judge%20Farrer.pdf>. All counsel (and parties, if they are appearing pro se) are expected to review it before filing any matters or appearing in a case before me.

B. The Parties Must Confer and Submit a Rule 26(f) Report.

On or before January 29, 2024, the parties shall confer in the manner required by Rule 26(f) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. The parties should address whether a protective order is required, whether the protective order in Appendix H-1 (to govern standard cases) or Appendix H-2 (to govern complex cases) of this Court’s Local Rules is appropriate. Moreover, pursuant to Local Rule CV-16(d) the parties shall submit their Joint Discovery/Case Management Plan, if one has not already been submitted, that answers the following questions:

1. What is the basis for subject-matter jurisdiction? Are there any outstanding jurisdictional issues? For cases premised on diversity jurisdiction, provide the citizenship of each party and explain whether or not the parties agree that the amount in controversy exceeds $75,000. For removal cases, explain whether the parties agree that the amount in controversy exceeded $75,000 at the time of removal. If there is any disagreement on these issues, each party should state its respective position.
2. Are there any unserved parties? If more than 90 days have passed since the filing of the Complaint or Petition, should any unserved parties be dismissed?

3. What are the causes of action, defenses, and counterclaims in this case? What are the elements of the cause(s) of action, defenses, and counterclaims pled?
4. Are there any agreements or stipulations that can be made about any facts in this case or any element in the cause(s) of action?
5. State the parties' views and proposals on all items identified in Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(f)(3).
6. What, if any, discovery has been completed? What discovery remains to be done? Have the parties considered conducting discovery in phases?
7. If a Rule 30(b)(6) deposition is anticipated, have the parties discussed potential topics for the deposition?
8. What, if any, discovery disputes exist or are anticipated?
9. Have the parties discussed the desirability of filing a proposed order pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 502?
10. Have the parties discussed mediation? Is this a case that could be mediated early and effectively with limited discovery? If so, what discovery is essential to any early mediation and how could it be structured to streamline an early mediation?

The Court will address the substance of the parties' joint report and discovery plan at the Initial Pretrial Conference.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that on or before January 29, 2024, the parties shall submit proposed scheduling recommendations to govern this case going forward. The scheduling recommendations should conform to the presiding judge's attached template. At the Initial Pretrial Conference, the Court will discuss with the parties any proposed changes to the Court's standard scheduling order based on the circumstances of this case.

C. The Parties Must Take Care to Ensure the Court Has Jurisdiction.

The parties are reminded that the Court has a duty to examine its subject matter jurisdiction. Howery v. Allstate Ins. Co., 243 F.3d 912, 919 (5th Cir. 2001). In diversity cases, the "court must be certain that all plaintiffs have a different citizenship from all defendants," Getty Oil Corp. v. Ins. Co. of N. Am., 841 F.2d 1254, 1258 (5th Cir. 1988), and it is the obligation of the party asserting federal jurisdiction to “distinctly and affirmatively allege” the citizenship of the parties. Howery, 243 F.3d at 919.

Many jurisdictional defects, while easily curable, unnecessarily consume the Court’s and parties’ resources. The standards for alleging citizenship in diversity cases are well-established. See MidCap Media Fin., L.L.C. v. Pathway Data, Inc., 929 F.3d 310, 313-14 (5th Cir. 2019). In cases involving corporations, allegations of citizenship must set forth the state of incorporation as well as the principal place of business. See id. If either party is an LLC, each and every member of the LLC and each member’s citizenship must be identified. See id. In addition, citizenship and residence are not synonymous terms in this context. Id. “Citizenship requires not only residence in fact but also the purpose to make the place of residence one’s home.” Id. (quotations and brackets omitted). “Therefore, an allegation of residency alone does not satisfy the requirement of an allegation of citizenship.” Id. (quotations omitted).

Prior to the Initial Pretrial Conference, the party invoking this Court’s jurisdiction shall review the relevant law and their pleadings and cure any and all jurisdictional defects. If the Court is forced to raise the issue of jurisdiction again at the Initial Pretrial Conference despite this clear warning, sanctions up to and including dismissal may be assessed. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 16(f) (permitting a court to “issue any just orders, including those authorized by Rule 37(b)(2)(A)(ii)–(vii), if a party or its attorney . . . fails to obey a . . . pretrial order”).

D. The Parties and Counsel Are Advised of Certain Matters in Connection with Appearing in This Court.

Finally, Counsel are advised of the following matters.

First, counsel should refrain from communicating with the Courtroom Deputy or other court staff concerning substantive matters. Substantive communications with the Court should be conducted via officially filed documents. This includes informal inquiries regarding when the Court might be expected to issue a ruling, which are unwelcome.

Second, non-dispositive motions—even where the opposing party is proceeding pro se—must include a certificate of conference, as indicated in the Local and Federal Rules, reflecting a good-faith, diligent effort to resolve the disputed issue that is the subject of the motion. See Local Rule CV-7(g) (applying to all non-dispositive motions); see also Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(a)(1) (applying to discovery disputes). An email or letter correspondence with opposing counsel may on some occasions be appropriate—i.e., in the first instance or to ensure the motion is unopposed. But in the Court’s view, the best and most efficient way to comply with the conference requirement is through either an in-person meeting or actual conversation by telephone.¹ Accordingly, absent extenuating circumstances, a certificate of conference noting one or two unsuccessful attempts to confer—particularly where the attempts occur the day the motion is filed—will be disfavored and may result in denial of the requested relief. See Local Rule CV-7.

Third and finally, reasonable requests for deadline extensions that do not threaten meaningful prejudice to the client typically should not be opposed. See Local Rule AT-4(b); see also Ex M to Local Rules. At the same time, the Court frowns upon last-minute requests for extensions or continuances, unless there is a genuine emergency or extenuating circumstances. Likewise, the Court frowns upon the labeling of matters as constituting an “emergency” that do not involve a bona fide emergency justifying the Court's departure from its nonemergency procedures.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
